Dear Parents, Students, Staff and Friends of the Magdalene Community,

On Wednesday 22 May at the school assembly our special guest speaker was Mr Joe Madrill, father of Bastien, who passed away in 2012. Mr Madrill came to Magdalene to explain the significance of the Pukumani Pole, which was erected on Saturday 18 May in the memorial garden. The pole is a lasting momento of Bastien for our community but also has spiritual and cultural significance. The pole added another dimension to the memorial garden which continues to develop into an important tribute to those members of our community who are no longer with us. It is also a sacred reflection space for students and staff. I thank everyone who has contributed to the garden and in this instance acknowledge Mr and Mrs Madrill, Mr Trimarchi and Mr Elliott for ensuring the tribute to Bastien was successfully added to the garden on 18 May. An explanation of the totem is included in this newsletter.

Last week students in Years 8 to 11 completed their first semester examinations. It was certainly pleasing to witness the manner in which some students had prepared for the examinations and diligently completed them. The examination results provide students with an opportunity to reflect on both what they do well and areas of improvement. It is the hope of teachers that the learning continues after examinations are completed and returned to students. I encourage parents to go through examinations with their sons or daughters. Challenge them to answer the questions correctly and if they have difficulty attaining the correct response they should seek teacher assistance.

Over recent weeks a number of teachers have been approached by parents to rescind or remove notifications from diaries as the notification upset their son or daughter. It is important to note that notifications are used to inform parents of different situations at school. Notifications are not a form of punishment. They are simply a means to keep communication up to date. The inclusion of these in the diary, allows parents to have a reference point and to stay informed of both positive and negative incidents. It is not appropriate to have notifications removed from a school diary as this defeats the purpose of that form of communication. The second form of notification that has been recently introduced at Magdalene is the Absence notification via text message. Again this was introduced to keep parents informed and up to date with student attendance. All parents will receive the notification and have the opportunity to respond either via a text message or in writing. In order to resolve absence issues parents should notify the school of the reason for absence. If the school is not informed of the reason for absence or lateness by the following Monday, a letter will be sent home requesting the information. This will keep all parties up to date.

Congratulations to Sheree Farrell for her outstanding performance in swimming competitions recently. Sheree has been selected in the NSW All Schools Team. As a representative of NSW, Sheree will travel to Adelaide in September to compete against students from the other states in the National All Schools Swimming Championships.

Last Tuesday two Magdalene students were acknowledged for their outstanding art works. Alexandra Francis - Reynolds and John Azzi have had their Artworks hung in the Catholic Education Office Wollongong. Ally and John travelled to Wollongong with members of their families and were welcomed and thanked by the Director of Catholic Education in the Wollongong Diocese, Mr Peter Turner. I congratulate both students on their outstanding works and the acknowledgement by Mr Turner.

Strong minds, gentle hearts
Over recent times there has been a number of Social Justice initiatives at the school which really reflect the commitment to social justice at Magdalene. The Earn and Learn sticker collection for disadvantaged schools, the can drive for St Vincent de Paul and the up coming Winter Sleep Out Appeal combined with the Spark Retreat, all reflect the generosity of many students in our community and the willingness of students to be true witnesses to Christ. I continue to be impressed by the generosity of some students at Magdalene and certainly encourage all students to follow this example.

On Pentecost Sunday, Bishop Peter Ingham presented a Pastoral Letter titled, With the Spirit of God, We Move Together into Our Future as a response to the recommendations from parishioners during the Parishes Working Together planning and consultation process.

A copy of the Bishop's Pastoral Letter is included with this newsletter. I ask that families take some time to read Bishop Peter's response, so you can be informed of plans to build viable and sustainable Church communities in the Diocese of Wollongong.

Recently the world was shocked by the violent events, which occurred on a London Street. These events were both inhumane and brutal. The sad reality however, is that in many situations violence is becoming a part of our society and sadly is being accepted by some as a means to resolve issues. At our assembly on May 22 I spoke to students about the fact that one or our core values is the sense of community and as part of any community each one of has a responsibility to promote peace and harmony and respect for the dignity of all. I emphasised that there is no place for violence of any sort in a community and when violence is used there are no winners. I will emphasise that there is certainly no place for violence at Magdalene and any students who resort to violence of any sort will place their position at the school in jeopardy. Magdalene will continue to be a safe and caring environment for all members of the community. I thank those good people in our community who continue to ensure that issues and interactions are peaceful and help to guarantee that Magdalene is a safe place for all. As we approach the feast of Corpus Christi may each of us be guided by Christ through the Eucharist and become true instruments of Christ's peace.

Peace Prayer of St Francis

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace,
Where there is hatred, let me sow love;
Where there is injury, pardon;
Where there is doubt, faith;
Where there is despair, hope;
Where there is darkness, light;
Where there is sadness, joy.

O Divine Master,
grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled, as to console;
to be understood, as to understand;
to be loved, as to love.
For it is in giving that we receive.
It is in pardoning that we are pardoned,
and it is in dying that we are born to Eternal Life.
Amen.

God Bless

PUKUMANI TOTEM POLE

On Wednesday 22 May, 2013 Mr Joe Madrill spoke to the school community explaining the symbolism of the Pukumani Pole which is in our memorial garden. The Pukumani Pole is in remembrance of his son, our friend Bastien, who died on 26 April 2012. Bastien was a member of our Year 10 group.

“The Tiwi islands include Bathurst Island and Melville Island. They are located 100 km north of Darwin. Tiwi art and language are remarkably distinct and often appear to be abstract. With the strong use of patterns and colours, Tiwi art is highly striking. Ceremonies play an important part in the Tiwi Island culture. There are two main ceremonies performed, and an annual one, the Kulama ceremony and the Pukumani ceremony. The Pukumani ceremony occurs approximately six months after the deceased has been buried. This is regarded the most important ceremony of a person’s life in the world of the living. Even though the Mobuditi (spirit of the dead) has been released the person existence in the living world is not finished until the completion of the ceremony. The ceremony ensures the Mobuditi goes from the living world into the spirit world.

Prior to the ceremony tall totem poles are carved. The poles symbolize the status and prestige of the deceased. The actual carvings, and the artwork on this Pukumani pole were not completed by the same person. Three Tiwi people each told their own story. A Tiwi male elder carved the pole, a Tiwi female elder painted it and another Tiwi female artist completed it by adding Bastien’s personal totems on it. The long neck turtle is Bastien’s family totem from the Tiwi Islands and the Kookaburra is given as a totem by Joe and Claire for Bastien’s dreaming. Each carving and artwork appearing on the pole represents its own story and has different cultural meanings behind them.

The pole is sacred and holds not only Bastien’s spirit but also that of his ancestors. This is an extremely cultural and traditional pole that is to be respected. Pukumani means taboo, it is the possessions of the dead. To taunt with the pole is to disturb the spirits, which is seen as forbidden. The pole is a gift to the spirits from the Tiwi Island people.”

The school is deeply grateful to the Madrill family for this significant and beautiful gift.

SYNAGOGUE VISIT

Our Night at the Synagogue

On Saturday 18 May, a day we now recognise as the Jewish Sabbath day, Liam Mlezcko, Tegan Allen and I joined Mr and Mrs Wright at a Jewish Synagogue in Sydney. We learned of the parallels between the Jewish and Christian faiths. The insightful excursion saw Dr Amy-Jill Levine sharing her interesting grasp on Jesus from a Jewish perspective. Prof Levine (‘Levine’ we now know to stem from her Jewish tribe of ‘Levi’) on the topic of interfaith dialogue, discussed ‘Jesus: the Misunderstood Jew’, with approximately 180 people in a multi-faith audience at Emanuel Synagogue. It was a really well attended event which included members of the Jewish community including NSW Jewish Board of Deputies Executive members and people from various Christian churches.

The talk was organised by the interfaith organisation, NSW Council of Christians and Jews (NSWCCJ). It gave us, Magdalene students, a proper insight into the ways members of different religions can interact peacefully, which meant a lot to me as it was refreshing not to see the contrary, that is portrayed in the media, for once. She explained for the benefit of Jews and Christians how Christian text and Theology have led to distortions in understanding of both Torah, of the Jewish Bible and origins of the New Testament, leading to selective reading and thus misunderstandings. Amy-Jill emphasised that any understanding of Christianity and of the New Testament and Christian reading of the Jewish Bible, must be viewed from the standpoint of Jesus having been a Jew, living a thoroughly Jewish way of life in a Jewish nation. Kosher food was better than I expected, the Jewish community make a great caramel slice! It was a pleasure to be invited along and it was totally worth my while in attending an event that I wouldn’t often get the chance to.

PARLIAMENT HOUSE

On Wednesday 22 May, Jessica Grech (Vice Captain) and myself travelled to Sydney to attend Sydney Parliament House for a day interacting with Ministers, The Speaker and Representatives of the NSW Parliamentary System upon the invitation of Mr Chris Patterson MP. It was a day to reflect on our roles as leaders, and see how if we pushed ourselves further to become involved adults in our communities and we could end up leading on a far bigger scale.

This is our second time to Parliament, and it was just as surprising how rushed everything there is, “the bells ringing for Lower and Upper House at random intervals followed by a swarm of rushing politicians,” the constantly full elevators going up and down to the many massive and intricate floors, it's not exactly a place of peace. What was happening was fascinating, we witnessed a vote on Worker's Compensation payments and how efficiently they are distributed to injured people in the workplace. We met some very interesting ministers such as the Minister for Transport, the Minister for Education, the Minister for Aboriginal's and Youth, all of whom were positive people trying to do their best to aid the state.

Question time was our final part of the day and the best word I can think of to describe it is heated! There was yelling, and name calling, valid points being slipped in between. The speaker of the house put people on 'strikes' with which they received 3 then they were removed (the closest we came was one member getting to 2). It was colourful, but it was interesting, and we could genuinely see the passion these people have for Australia and the things they represent.

A worthwhile day, that never lacked excitement, we were very happy to have been a part of this experience, a very fascinating place indeed!

“...After prayerfully considering your recommendations and the wisdom of my advisory groups, I now put before you, as your Bishop, the plan for the next few years to ensure that we build vibrant, sustainable Church communities.” [The following summarises the plan outlined by Bishop in more detail in his pastoral letter]

- A Diocesan Strategic Plan will be developed
- The Diocese will be divided into seven regions
- As is necessary, boundaries will be determined for new parishes
- The clustering or grouping of parishes will take place
- Cluster Planning Committees and, in time, Regional Planning Committees will be established
- Terms of Reference will be established for Cluster and Regional Planning Committees.
- Staff of the Office of the Bishop will assist priests and parishes in all these endeavours
- Following the positive response of participants from:
  - Thirroul, Helensburgh, Bulli and Corrimal; and
  - Lumen Christi Pastoral Region and West Wollongong
  And their willingness to initiate some changes in the immediate future, I have invited the relevant parish priests and their assistants to establish two pilot programs in 2013
- the Diaconate and a Lay Pastoral Ministry model will be introduced
- A Diocesan Communication Strategy will be established

WE MOVE TOGETHER INTO OUR FUTURE

Bishop Peter Ingham's Pastoral Letter
Pentecost
19 May 2013
My dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

As promised, on this Feast of Pentecost I am happy to share with you the outcome of the extensive education and consultation process, Parishes Working Together. This incorporates our plans to continue together, clergy, religious and laity, to build vibrant and sustainable Church communities in the Diocese of Wollongong as we move into the future as bearers of Christ’s love.

Many of you expressed delight at being asked for your wisdom and opinion, and were grateful to be part of what you described as a transparent process in which the faithful could be involved as committed Catholics, sharing responsibility for our Diocesan Church. As we sought to prayerfully discern what the Holy Spirit might be calling us to do at this particular time in our Diocese, I am most grateful for the generosity of spirit with which we have listened to each other and worked together to offer possible solutions to the challenges we face. As our Diocesan Pastoral Plan makes clear, “We have to be open to the Holy Spirit’s invitation to let go of those things that no longer serve our mission, and to allow the Spirit to recreate our hearts both as individuals and as a community of faith.”

In February this year, with the distribution of the workbook, Parishes Working Together, I launched our Education Process. This process is one aspect of our Diocesan Pastoral Plan, Bearers of Christ’s Love, which commenced in 2011. The engagement of more than 1,200 parishioners across the Diocese, assisted by some 50 facilitators, was most heartening. Your generous participation was indicative of your awareness and acceptance of your God-given role, and I dare say, obligation as baptised Catholics in the mission of the Church. Coming together to learn more about our situation as a Diocese and to identify possible future directions is, in fact, bringing the Good News of Jesus Christ to your communities. This can be a challenging experience in today’s secular environment.

Your responses indicate that belonging to a vibrant parish and having the opportunity for regular enrichment in our faith are high priorities as we revitalise our existing parishes and build new Church communities in growth areas. As one parishioner said in the response he submitted, “I want to bring up my children in a Church community where at Sunday Mass there is a church full of people of all ages, with great singing, a homily that keeps us as a family going for the week, where we catch up with some friends after Mass and as we go home, do something good for others.”

The educational process in parishes was followed by Regional Consultations during the month of April. Again parishioners were well involved with more than 700 people attending across the Diocese. At the consultation sessions a possible plan for future parish clusters in the regions of the Diocese was presented.

Key challenges were identified as critical in our planning for our future. These include:

- To maintain among all the faithful our commitment to Jesus Christ with an openness to change and improvement.
- To revitalise our faith communities by being more proactive in creating a sense of belonging and welcoming people into our church communities, especially young people and families in the new growth areas.
- To be personally more actively involved in the many ministries and services in our Church communities.
- To strengthen our bond of unity as Catholics in parishes, schools and other Catholic agencies.
- To ensure the viability of our parishes into the future.

On a practical level, the feedback provided by parishioners during the education and consultation processes highlighted some possible solutions to the challenges we face:

- A willingness to change the number and times of Masses in some parishes to free priests to serve in the growth centres of the Diocese.

I AM MOST GRATEFUL FOR THE GENEROSITY OF SPIRIT WITH WHICH PEOPLE LISTENED TO EACH OTHER AND WORKED TOGETHER TO OFFER POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS TO THE CHALLENGES WE FACE.”
A willingness to accept that parish structures and boundaries be adjusted to free up priests to serve in areas of greater need in the Diocese.

- A recognition that the sharing of ministries and services across parishes will facilitate a more effective and efficient use of limited resources.
- An endorsement of the introduction of the Diocesan and of a Lay Pastoral Ministry model where properly trained lay people can assist the clergy as the need arises.

At the Regional Consultations, possible regional boundaries and models for parish configurations were accepted in principle. It is understood that regions themselves, under the leadership of their pastors, will be given the opportunity to make amendments, in consultation with their parish communities. It is anticipated that this will be progressed in the near future.

All recommendations from the education process and regional consultations have been compiled into a comprehensive report which will be made available to parish priests and will also be available to parishioners on the Diocesan website. The full report will be finalised in June 2015 after inclusion of current Mass attendance figures which will be gathered in the Diocese over the next four weeks. A shorter version of the report will be distributed in parishes in July this year.

During May, the recommendations from parish and regional consultations have been considered and discussed by members of key Diocesan Advisory Councils, including the Council of Priests. After prayerfully considering your recommendations and the wisdom of my advisory groups, I now put before you, as your Bishop, the plan for the next few years to ensure that we build vibrant, sustainable Church communities. The following strategies will be implemented to address the current and emerging pastoral needs in our Diocese:

- A Diocesan Strategic Plan will be developed to ensure the proposed changes are implemented in a coherent and manageable way. The Strategic Plan will help us focus on immediate and long-term improvements in the Diocese. The existing Diocesan Pastoral Plan will be part of the Strategic Plan. (Note that the Catholic Education Office and CatholicCare both have well-developed strategic plans which will form part of the Diocesan Strategic Plan)

- The Diocese will be divided into seven regions that will facilitate the effective sharing of ministries and services across parishes in these regions.

- As is necessary, boundaries will be determined for new parishes in growth areas and, also as necessary, some existing parish boundaries will be reviewed.

- The clustering or grouping of parishes in a particular Region will assist us to revitalise our parish communities. Decisions about parish configurations will be made by the Bishop, after consultation with the clergy and Parish Pastoral Councils representing the faithful in the particular cluster.

- Cluster Planning Committees and, in time, Regional Planning Committees will be established to assist parishes to work more closely together to build and sustain their faith communities. It is anticipated that this will occur in the next two to three years.

- Terms of Reference will be established for Cluster and Regional Planning Committees. These will assist the clusters and Regions in developing Action Plans. The Action Plans will include operational issues such as rationalising Mass times, sharing ministries and resources, an anticipated timeline for implementation.

> I WANT TO BRING UP MY CHILDREN IN A CHURCH COMMUNITY WHERE AT SUNDAY MASS THERE IS A CHURCH FULL OF PEOPLE OF ALL AGES, WITH GREAT SINGING, A HOMILY THAT KEEPS US AS A FAMILY GOING FOR THE WEEK, WHERE WE CATCH UP WITH SOME FRIENDS AFTER MASS AND AS WE GO HOME, DO SOMETHING GOOD FOR OTHERS.”

CONSULTATION FEEDBACK

- A Diocesan Strategic Plan will be developed to ensure the proposed changes are implemented in a coherent and manageable way. The Strategic Plan will help us focus on immediate and long-term improvements in the Diocese. The existing Diocesan Pastoral Plan will be part of the Strategic Plan. (Note that the Catholic Education Office and CatholicCare both have well-developed strategic plans which will form part of the Diocesan Strategic Plan) and budgetary requirements that are within the financial capacity of the cluster or Region.

- Staff of the Office of the Bishop will assist priests and parishes in all these endeavours.

- Following the positive response of participants from:
  - Thirroul, Helensburgh, Wollongong, and Corrimal; and
  - Lumen Christi Pastoral Region and West Wollongong,
    their willingness to initiate some changes in the immediate future, I have invited the relevant parish priests and their assistants to establish two pilot programs in 2013.

- To meet the growing pastoral needs of parishioners, the Diocesan and a Lay Pastoral Ministry model will be introduced and resourced in the Diocese, as soon as practicable.

- A Diocesan Communication Strategy will be established as part of the Strategic Plan to ensure transparency in all aspects of the implementation process.

In conclusion, as we continue to meet the pastoral needs of our present faith communities and plan for building and sustaining vibrant parishes in the years ahead, both in existing parishes and in new parishes that will be established in growth areas, I have today presented you with the foundation for our actions. These actions will commence this year and many will be realised in the next two or three years.

Again, I am most grateful for the commitment and dedication shown by so many people across the Diocese in their readiness to come together to prayerfully discern our response to present and future needs. Let us pray for the guidance of the Holy Spirit as we continue our journey together, confident of the intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mary, our patroness. Let us also take inspiration from St. Mary of the Cross Mackillop and her motto: Never see a need without doing something about it.

At this significant time in the history of our Diocese, a time of renewal and change, the dedication and commitment of our clergy, religious and parishioners fills me with joy and a genuine belief that together we will be able to carry forward with energy and renewed vigour the mission of the Church into the future.

Yours sincerely in Christ,

CARRINGTON

In the coming weeks, twelve eager students from our school community will commence the ‘Through Our Eyes’ journey at Carrington Nursing home in Camden. The students will travel to the nursing home every Tuesday for 1 hour to listen to the awe-inspiring stories of generations gone by, and with this information will aim to create a ‘This is Your Life’ memento for the residents and their families to keep that documents the amazing life, experience and memories of these beautiful people.

Through this project friendships are sparked and memories that would be forgotten are put together into a life-long keepsake. In the past this process has been extremely rewarding to all involved, and we know from experience that this time will be no different.

We all wish them well in their mission, and are proud of these advocates for our school.
